

Satellite radio has proven to be an excellent communication medium. Of the 3 audio media, it has proven itself to be the most consistently reliable, accessible, and high quality. It is by far the most desirable of the audio media for not only entertainment programming, but also information sharing such as traffic and weather reporting. In point of fact, I have been looking forward to XM Radio's expansion of this programming to include my area, not to curtail it in any way